KILTERNAN—FORMERLY GOLDEN-BALL.

Kiltiernan (formerly Golden-Ball), a small village and post-town in Kiltiernan parish and Rathdown barony, Dublin county, nine miles S. by E. from Dublin. It is situated on the road to Enniskerry, and at or near the junction of four parishes—Tully, Kiltiernan, Kilgobbin, and Rathmichael, to which it is convenient merely for its post-office. In the vicinity is some of the boldest and most strikingly diversified scenery in the county. The noted Scalp, a deep natural defile or chasm, on the confines of Wicklow on one side, with the Two and Three-rock Mountains on the other, the former rising 1,763 feet, and the Three-rock Mountain 1,479 feet above the level of the sea. Near the village is Kiltiernan Church of Ireland, a handsome erection in the later English style; a Protestant Endowed School; and also a Protestant National School; at Sandford, there is a small but very neat Roman Catholic Church, and two National Schools, and at Glencullen there is also a Roman Catholic Church and two National Schools. A free library has been erected in Glencullen, the gift of Andrew Carnegie. Two miles N.W. from Kiltiernan is the village of Stepside, in Kilgobbin parish, which has a Dispensary. About one mile and a quarter N.E. of the village is the hamlet of Carrickmines, in Tully parish. Near Kiltiernan are the Ballycorus lead mines of the Mining Company of Ireland.

LUCAN.

Lucan, an inland town and parish in Newcastle barony, Dublin county, seven miles W. from Dublin, comprising an area of 1,126 acres. Population, 919. The town is prettily situated in a fertile vale, on the banks of the River Liffey, which is here crossed by a fine stone bridge of one arch. Its public buildings are, the Church of Ireland, a neat structure with a tower and spire, a large Roman Catholic Church, a Presentation Convent, a Methodist Church and Manse, and a Presbyterian Church and Manse. It has a Dispensary, a Lending Library, National Schools, and a Parochial Hall. In the grounds of Weston Lodge and Leixlip Castle is the well-known and much frequented waterfall, called the Salmon Leap, which consists of a succession of rock ledges crossing the Liffey, over which the fish dart at one bound. It forms a beautiful cascade, the picturesque effect of which is greatly increased by the rich and lofty wooded banks of the river, and the adjoining tastefully embellished demesne of Leixlip Castle. The Lucan spa is much frequented by visitors and invalids. A beautiful and capacious hotel and sanatorium has been completed by the "Lucan Hydropathic Spa Co., Limited." There are regular daily bus services to Lucan from Dublin, and the Dublin United Tramways Co. have now a regular and frequent service.

MALAHIDE

mullaí íoe.

Malahide, a maritime town and parish in Coolock barony, Dublin county, nine miles N. from Dublin, comprising an area of 1,126 acres. Population about 1,000. The town is situated on a narrow inlet of the sea, and adjacent to the Great Northern Railway. The Castle is a large square building, flanked by lofty circular towers, standing on a high limestone rock. Of the original Castle little remains but the site, and that has been greatly enlarged. The principal front is embattled, and the main entrance, which is under a splendid Gothic porch, is defended by two circular towers. The grand hall is roofed with richly-carved ancient Irish oak, lighted by three large windows, with a gallery at the end. Among the many splendid apartments the Castle contains the most curious is that called the "oak chamber," ceiled and wainscotted with richly-carved oak, in compartments, containing scriptural devices and lighted with a pointed window of stained glass. In the drawing-room, among other valuable paintings, there is a small altar-piece painted by Albert Durer, said to have been originally in the oratory of Mary Queen of Scots, at Holyrood House. The demesne is adorned with groups of stately trees, and the grounds and gardens of the Castle are beautifully laid out. It is open on Wednesdays and Fridays to visitors. The only public buildings are the Church, a neat edifice of the later English style, which has recently been enlarged and restored, and a handsome Roman Catholic Church. It has a large and handsome Hotel, a National School, and a Parochial Church of Ireland School. There is also a Postal and Telegraph Office. There is a regular bus service daily between Dublin and Malahide.

RATHFARNHAM.

Rathfarnham, a parish and village in Uppercross and Rathdown baronies, Dublin county, four miles south from the G.P.O., Dublin, comprising an area of 2,581 acres. Population, about 10,000. It is situated on the road to Whitechurch, and near where the Military-road commences that crosses the mountains into Wicklow county; population of village about 550. The village consists of one long irregular street; the Church of Ireland Church is on the right side. The Roman Catholic Church is a large building in the main street. The Loreto Convent, in the vicinity, is a modern building, attached to which there is an elegant chapel, a female free school, also a ladies' boarding and day school. The Novitiate College of the Augustinians and St. Columba's College are in the neighbourhood. There is also a Dispensary and a District Justice Courthouse. The bridge of Rathfarnham, over the river Dodder, is several hundred yards from the village, the approach to which is rising ground, thickly shaded in summer by the trees of the demesnes on each side. The neighbourhood abounds in pretty seats and villas, commanding rich views of the Dublin mountains and bay. At Grange is situated the "Priory," the residence of the famous John Philpot Curran. The castle of Rathfarnham was built by Archbishop Loftus in the reign of Elizabeth. One of the entrances to the demesne, fronting the Dodder, is in the style of a Roman triumphal arch. The entrance to the castle is by a portico of eight Doric columns that support a dome painted in fresco with the signs of the zodiac. Ballyboden, a village in the parish of Whitechurch, is about one and a quarter miles farther on, and comprises an area of two acres. There is a Postal and Telegraph Office in Rathfarnham.

RATHGAR—see RATHMINES AND RATHGAR URBAN DISTRICT.*RATHMINES AND RATHGAR URBAN DISTRICT.

Rathmines, an extensive district, suburban to the metropolis, in the parish of St. Peter, Uppercross, and Rathdown baronies, Dublin county, two miles south from the General Post Office, Dublin. It is situated on the road to Rathfarnham and Tallaght, and is one continued line of buildings, upwards of a mile and half in length, intersected by numerous terraces, with detached villas, and only separated from the city, at Portobello, by the Grand Canal, here crossed by La Touche's bridge, and where the municipal and parliamentary boundaries terminate. The Church of the Church of Ireland is dedicated to the Holy Trinity, and was rebuilt at a cost of £6,000. The Roman Catholic Church is a large and handsome structure, in the later style, and the principal one of the Union of St. Mary and St. Peter. There are a Presbyterian Church at the corner of Highfield-road, Rathgar, and a Methodist Church at Charleston-road and Brighton-road. On the right of the road from Dublin is Portobello Military Barracks. There are also a Town Hall, an imposing structure, Schools, a Municipal Technical Institute (a fine building situated in Leinster-road, erected at a cost of £10,000, giving adequate accommodation for the extensive work of the School of Commerce and the School of Domestic Economy, opened October, 1913), a Public Library (established 1887, now housed in a handsome building erected through the munificence of Andrew Carnegie, esq., LL.D., at a cost of £8,500, opened October, 1913), a Police Station, a Fire Brigade Station, and branches of the National, Royal, Ulster, and Munster and Leinster Banks.

In 1847, a local Act was obtained, creating that part of the parish of St. Peter which is in the barony of Uppercross into a Township; and the Act was amended by the Rathmines and Rathgar Improvement Act, 1862, by which the Townland of Rathgar and the small Townland of Sallymount were included; and was amended again by the St. Catherine's Improvement Act, 1866, by which the townlands of St. Catherine and St. Nicholas Without, in the barony of Uppercross, were included; again by Milltown Extension Act, 1880, by which Milltown was added. The total valuation of the Township is £184,441. The Council have constructed Water-works at a cost of about £200,000 at Glen-na-Smoil Valley, which supplies the Township with water under Rathmines and Rathgar Water Act, 1880. Tram cars ply on the Rathmines-road, starting every few minutes from Nelson's Pillar, in O'Connell-street, to Rathmines, Rathgar, and Terenure, Upper Rathmines and Dartry-road, and via Ranelagh to Palmerston-road and Palmerston-park. There is a Postal Telegraph Office at the Office, Portobello Bridge, also at the Post Office, Wynnefield-road, and Town Sub-Offices at Rathgar, Ranelagh, Upper Rathmines, Harold's Cross, and Milltown. Township revenue, £154,951; expenditure, £157,320; debt, £324,352. Area of the Township, 1,714 acres. Population 1911—87,540, inhabiting 7,050 houses.
