Alex WHITE

Dear voter,
Change is in your hands.

Your vote is your voice. You can use it to change our country and help bring hope for the future.

A return to prosperity will require a new social contract - one that renews our economy, and radically reforms our political system. The Labour Party is putting forward such a vision for Ireland.

I ask that you join us in realising that vision, by giving me your Number 1 vote on Election day.

Thank you.

Eamon GILMORE

I have one driving ambition in politics – to create an economy and a society that is fair, prosperous and sustainable.

The Labour Party is putting forward a new vision for Ireland. Our focus is on Jobs, Reform and Fairness.

I am confident that with strong leadership and innovative policies we can rebuild our economy. What's more we can build a better country – a country that cherishes all children equally, a country that values the contribution of the elderly, a country where family and community are given priority.

This is the most important election for a generation. You and your family have a vital decision to make.

Together we can get Ireland back to work. Together we can build a fair society. Now is the time to take our future into our hands.

I'm asking you to vote for your Labour team - Ní neart go cur le chéile
