Norris for President
Changing Ireland for the better

Vote for me,
David Norris on October 27th.

Dear Voter,

I am seeking your support to put the welfare of the people at the heart of the Presidency. I want the office of the President to reflect the concerns of every Irish citizen, regardless of race, gender, religion, social status or sexual orientation.

I have always been committed to public service, and as an independent Senator I have used my drive and passion to affect great change campaigning against injustice and inequality.

The Government put the needs of the establishment and system above those of the people. They betrayed the Irish nation and put our money towards saving the banks rather than saving jobs and homes.

None of my opponents can offer what I offer in terms of my track record. I am the only one who has used the Constitution to help protect the marginalised. I have protected the human rights of children and adults in Ireland and abroad.

I am not only an independent politician, but an independent thinker. If elected I will continue the great work undertaken by our past two Presidents, Mary McAleese and Mary Robinson. The Presidency may be a symbolic role, but symbols can be very powerful.

A vote for me is a vote for change, it is a vote for democracy and it is a vote for our future.
